

STATEMENT OF RISK FOR BASE CAMP LLC (STUFF HAPPENS WAIVER)

Base Camp LLC, hereinafter referred to as BC, is located in a harsh environment. Because of the potential for extreme elements, varying landscapes and temperatures, you've got to help us do everything you can to increase your odds of having a safe and enjoyable experience.

The activities that you may be involved in while here and in the surrounding area have risks. While we have experience in the area, we'll never know everything and as a result, injury and or death may occur. While we don't feel it's likely, after all we live here, it's possible, and reading the Grand County Search and Rescue logs online, it happens more than every now and then.

Extreme weather conditions are possible to include, heat, cold, water, lightning, wood, stone, insects, bees, snakes, and critters of various shapes and sizes too numerous to mention. You may slip, fall, trip, and nature has worked long and hard in this environment to leave numerous options open to provide accidental injury or on occasion death. You may obtain vehicles of various sorts from us to include truck, jeep, ATV, trials bike, canoe, or kayak. BC personnel do reasonable maintenance on all BC vehicles and we wouldn't let you ride anything that we wouldn't ride. Still, during an outing the condition of the vehicle may change due to normal wear and tear, extreme heat or cold, and or injury by you, to the vehicles. If you feel uncomfortable at any point in your abilities or the safety of the vehicle, return to Base Camp in the safest way possible. Take no chances. Assume danger lurks around every corner.

Because of the possibility of potential peril in every day conditions, do not jeopardize yourself and or others. BC is relying on your representation you do not have any medical condition, physical or mental, which would limit your ability to care for yourself or others or react in emergency situations. If you look in the dictionary under remote, it says Base Camp LLC, and any type of rescue or emergency medical response may not be available for an extended period of time due to remote location or lack of communications ability to contact emergency personnel.

As it is likely BC personnel have more experience in the area of Base Camp, it's absolutely vital you follow their direction or instruction. If children accompany you in any activities, BC is placing it's trust in you, that they do not have any emotional, mental, or physical disabilities that would decrease all our odds of having a safe and pleasant experience.

There is a snake under every rock, a scorpion everywhere you sit. Because someone else walks around a two foot wide, 1,000 foot down Chicken Corners trail, you don't have to. Three people died on the bike trail at Jacob's Ladder on the Jackson Hole Loop, a girl rode an ATV off Hurrah Pass, there were jeep rollovers recently on Cane Creek Road and rollovers are a way of life on the Moab Rim Trail and Amasaback, all of which it is possible that you may visit or traverse. If at any point you feel uncomfortable, call it a day and return to Base Camp to fight another day.

RELEASE OF LIABILITY: BC has been as clear as it can be about the 24 hour a day risk of injury or death. I agree to follow all BC procedures and direction. This release is intended to discharge, in advance, BC, from any liability arising out of or connected in any way with my existence at Base Camp. STATEMENT REGARDING PHYSICAL CONDITION/MEDICAL AUTHORIZATION: I do not have a physical or medical condition, which would in any way limit me from acting in an emergency situation to protect myself and assist other participants and company personnel. In the event I am injured during my time with BC I hereby authorize BC to administer first aid or emergency medical care and/or to arrange for my rescue, medical evacuation and care, I agree to indemnify, defend and hold BC harmless for any damages or injuries I may suffer or any costs that may be incurred by reason of such first aid, emergency medical care, medical evacuation or rescue. HELP US, HELP YOURSELF: At the front door of Base Camp we have a “Where You Going” log. Do not go anywhere without filling that out completely. It’s more than difficult to find somebody here and particularly when we don’t know which direction you’ve gone. While we’ve learned to track fairly well, a dusting of wind can eliminate any clues we may be searching for to find you, or what’s left of you.

AGREEMENT TO COMPLY WITH RULES AND FOLLOW DIRECTIONS: At all times during my stay at Base Camp and surrounding area, I agree to conduct myself in such a manner as not to subject myself or those around me, company personnel, or their property to risk of injury or loss. I specifically agree at all times to follow the directions and instructions given me by company personnel and I understand that if I don’t, they’ll boot me.
